

Southern Promotional Deals

-How about two tuxedos?

-No way! These are top of the line!

-Well here's the problem: Kid running the spotlight hiccupped, and it hit two customers and not one. So we got two Customers of the Year! So, thanks for being in the promotion, but...

-If they're about the same size, I could give one the jacket and the other the trousers.

-Come on now! Are you a Jew?

-Member Shady Dell Road Baptist!

-Oh? Well, you're acting like one.

-If I go two tuxes, what's in it for...?"

-TV crew already been here. They're coming back for interview with me. I'll praise all the merchants who doubled their gifts!

-Nice, I'll try counting that instead of money.

-All right, Ballbreaker! Automotive ordered too many tires. Bring in your shitbox and we'll equip it for our cost. I'll eat the Labor.

-Now you're talking! Finally. If you knock off another twenty percent, then...

-Ten.

-Done.
